SAVE TRAPPED YANKS RINGED BY ENEMY DEAD

British Fight Way to Unit Holding Foe at Bay.

BULLETIN.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—Gen. Pershing's command today says that on the extreme east of the salient captured during the last week by the American troops advancing between the Meuse and the Argonne, 750 French soldiers, 700 machine guns, 100 heavy tank guns, thousands of rifles, shells, and hundreds of tons of small arms ammunition.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE. Oct. 2.—(By Reuters.)—The British army today is holding out strong Sunday in a position between Cambrai and St. Quentin against greatly superior enemy numbers has been reported.

Five attacks against the British position were repulsed today. The British position was held by the German army.

ENTIRE DISTRICT NORTH OF VESLE IS RECAPTURED

German in Pocket as Result of French Advances.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
PARIS, Oct. 2.—In the two days of the new offensive to the north and west of Reims the French troops have cleared the entire area between the Aisne and Vesle rivers of the enemy. These advances are likely to bring decisive results in the whole campaign in France.

The forward movement started yesterday evening when the French fought their way over the plateau of St. Thierry, clearing the great fortress of that name. When the French objectives were attained, the Germans were back to the Aisne and the Aisne-Marne canal along the entire front north and northwest.

Advances North of Vesle.

The attack spread further along the front to the east and the west today and the German lines have been driven back to the Vesle river. The French have captured the entire district north of Vesle, including the towns of St. Thierry, St. Remi, and St. Quentin. The German army is now in a pocket between the Aisne and Vesle rivers.

GREAT BASE IN FLANDERS OUTFLANKED

Advance of Allies May Clear Coast of Enemies.

BULLETIN.
PARIS, Oct. 2.—(Havas.)—The Matin announces that the Germans are evacuating Lille and that the commander there has requisitioned all means of transportation, even wheelbarrows and baskets, to take away the booty.

The newspaper adds that the evacuation of the townspeople to Belgian towns near the German border is being pursued hastily.

DRIVING THE HUN FROM HIS LINES ON ALL SECTORS

BRITISH AND BELGIANS IN FLANDERS.—The allies are in close pursuit of the Germans, who are retreating on a wide front north and south of La Bassée canal. The civilian population is reported being removed from Lille, indicating the Germans intend to abandon the entire bulge in the line between Meuse and Douai. The British are on top of Arras and Valenciennes and have crossed the Lys river. Further north the allies have made progress both northeast and southwest of the great railway center of Roulers, the communication point with the submarine bases on the coast. The Germans are reported removing their artillery from the coast.

BRITISH SMASH GERMAN LINES ON BIG FRONT

Huge Victory Sure by Gains Made Near Cambrai.

BULLETIN.
FRENCH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Oct. 2.—(Reuters.)—The whole of St. Quentin is now in the hands of the French.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Between Cambrai and St. Quentin the German line of defense has been broken. It is uncertain what lines the enemy has in the rear.

The British advance threatens the German line of retreat in the Oise valley and also from the mouth of St. Gobain.

An enemy retirement on a large scale seems probable. Given fairly good weather, some big changes on the western front may be seen before night.

U. S. SHIP SINKS

U-BOAT THAT GOT FRENCH CRUISER

New York, Oct. 2.—The German submarine which torpedoed and sank the French cruiser Dupetit Thouars in the English Channel, was reported to have been sighted by a U. S. ship.

According to the report the attack took place at dusk. The cruiser was standing about 1,000 yards in advance of the U. S. ship. The U. S. ship fired two shots and the submarine was seen to be on the surface. The U. S. ship then fired a salvo of three shots and the submarine was seen to be on the surface.

POOL ECONOMIC MIGHT OF ALLIES

United Councils to Control Use of All War Material.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—The long planned centralized control of all the economic forces of the nations fighting Germany is at last a fact.

It applies the principles of the unified military command to war materials, manufactured products, shipping, finance, food, and the export and import of the United States and the co-belligerents.

The great plan was worked out by President Wilson's so-called war cabinet and the allied nations. It has been approved by the president and the premiers of the belligerent nations.

No announcement of its consummation has been made here; in fact, it has rather been withheld from publicity. Some of its details and the fact that it is actually in operation have become known through developments in Paris and London.

TURKS PUT OUT NEW PEACE BID TO THE BRITISH

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Turkey has made further friendly overtures to the allies through financial channels which are being considered by the British war cabinet, the London Standard says. It learns on good authority. Important developments, the newspaper adds, are expected.

Turks Loyal, Germans Told.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 2.—The Turkish cabinet, according to a telegram published by the Cologne Gazette, has decided "in all circumstances to adhere to the alliance with the central powers."

BANK OFFICERS HELD; $728,208 TAKEN, CHARGE

Santa Rosa, Cal., Oct. 2.—Charged with embezzling funds of the Santa Rosa National bank aggregating $728,208, Frank A. Brush, cashier, and William C. Grant and D. K. Loughery, assistant cashiers of the bank, were arrested here tonight. United States Marshal J. H. Holahan made the arrests on warrants issued in San Francisco and sworn to by John W. Preston, special assistant to the attorney general.

Preston said that the money went for speculation and high living, according to the evidence in his possession.

The bank was ordered closed last Monday morning by federal examiners, following an examination into its financial condition.

Federal officials said that Joseph H. Brush, 35, father of Frank A. Brush and founder of the bank, turned over $400,000 of his private holdings recently to make good shortages in the bank's assets.

Clears Up Wide Sector.

British forces, breaking through the German line on the Beaurevoir-Wancourt front and capturing both these villages, created a salient which aided materially in the capture of St. Quentin by the French.

St. Quentin on Fire.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY NEAR ST. QUENTIN, Oct. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Entire sections of St. Quentin are in flames and explosions are heard in the city continually.

Fighting continues north of the town, where the French have made progress.

The French have gained the tunnel of the St. Quentin canal at Troquey and continue to advance eastward.

The city hall of St. Quentin appears to be intact, but it is believed to be mined.

Fighting continued during the night in the suburbs of St. Quentin. The Germans were trying to reach the French line by organizing a defense of the Canal canal, where they have massed a great number of machine guns to prevent the French troops from crossing.

The Germans are expected to make a desperate defense in that sector in order to facilitate their retreat to a secondary position behind the Hindenburg line.

BRITISH WAR CORRESPONDENT'S HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Oct. 2.—All day yesterday there was a ceaseless and severe struggle on both sides of Cambrai and after the Canadian attack in the early morning when they were firing at the German line, the British and Canadian forces were engaged in a fierce battle.

With almost fanatical courage they advanced in close formation down the valleys of Bantigny and Rallioncourt and were seen by the Canadian observers, who called to the Canadian guns.

Our artillery had human targets at short range and fired for hours with open sights. Their shells raked the German ranks, tore gaps in them and laid out the men in heaps.

March to the Sea.

Others came up to take their place and struggled on to break the Canadian line and again the guns took them for their targets and killed a number of them. There was a massacre of men in those valleys and our guns served until they were too hot to fire, but still under cover of the smoke and the darkness of the night.

One party of Canadians was isolated near Cuvillers and were in a most perilous situation for several hours, but had no thought of surrender.

All the Canadians say the number of German dead strewn about this ground is horrible to see.

Tank Run Over Man.

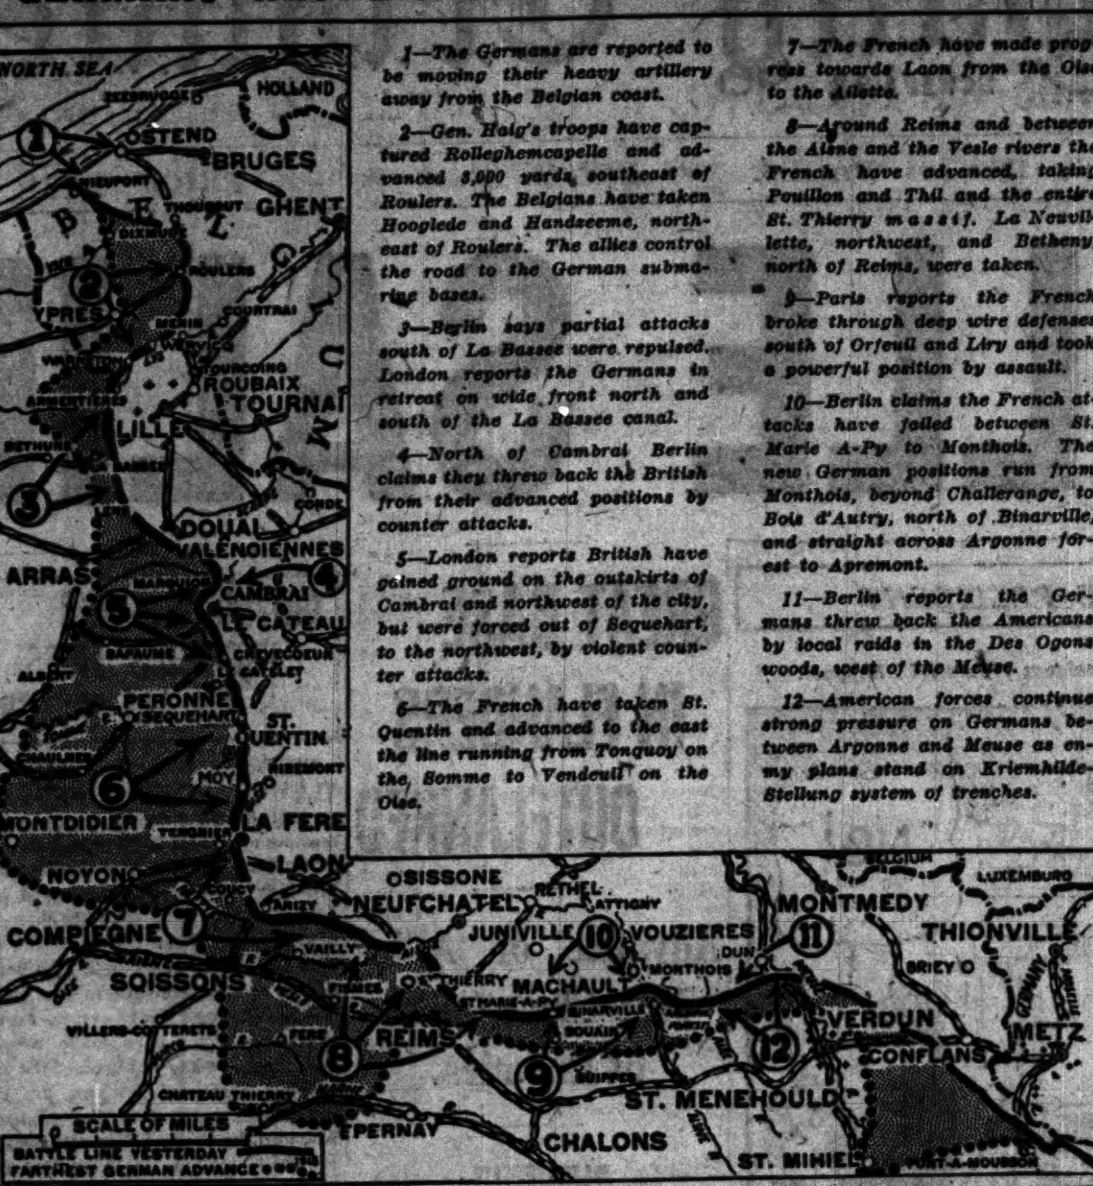

The Bavarians were fighting with fierce spirit and one of our officers today said that when the British tank advanced upon one of the German machine gun nests near Rumilly the gunners fired until it was right on their emplacement and one man actually refused to release his weapon until the tank had passed over both of his legs.

One curious incident happened to two of our Red Cross ambulances showing the daring of their drivers in following up the advance to rescue the wounded. Believing Rumilly was ours yesterday the officer in charge of these ambulances drove straight for the village and was only made aware of the situation when machine gun bullets whistled all around him and a body of Germans rushed out to seize the cars.

He was hit with a bullet just below the waist and it traveled around his side and came out through his left arm. Badly wounded as he was he made a dash for escape and got away until he fell unconscious some distance from the German lines, but he remembered seeing some enemy soldiers jump into the ambulances and drive them into Rumilly. What happened to the other drivers I do not know.

The "Roads, the Harrows, and the Drakes" who had taken Grainescourt and La Folle wood by a severe struggle, were men of the naval division, who seized the bridgehead over the Scheldt canal and made their way across.

his in the direction of Bruges. It is not known whether this was the result of the British shell fire or whether the flames were started by the Germans themselves.

Close to the City.

The Belgian army, cooperating with the British army of Gen. Plumer and the French army of Gen. Degoutte, renewed today their heavy attacks with success.

The enveloping movement against Turoing, Roubaix, and Lille is proceeding swiftly.

The progress continues unchecked, notwithstanding the stiffening resistance of the German.

Control Road to Ostend.

The town of Mearns, an important railway junction, has been set on fire by the Germans. French guns now control the railway line running from Ostend, through Thourout and Roulers to Courtrai.

New Gains Are Made.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—French and Belgian troops have made fresh progress. The British have entered Ledeghem on the Roulers-Menin railway, according to the Belgian official statement issued last night. A British detachment, the statement says, has crossed the Lys river between Wervicq and Comines.

The Anglo-Belgian troops have been subjected to violent counter attacks. The Germans realize that if the allies push a bare five miles farther eastward on the Belgian front Ostend will be untenable, while an advance of ten miles would jeopardize the entire coast line.

May Give Up Coast.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—Further evidence of German preparations for evacuating the Belgian sea coast reached the state department today in dispatches saying hospitals, post offices, and the contents of storage houses of the German Fourth army district were being moved back.

1—The Germans are reported to be moving their heavy artillery away from the Belgian coast.

2—Gen. Holst's troops have captured Houthemepelle and advanced 5,000 yards southeast of Roulers. The Belgians have taken Houthemepelle and Houthemepelle, north-east of Roulers. The allies control the road to the German submarine bases.

3—Berlin says partial attacks south of La Bassee were repulsed. London reports the Germans in retreat on wide front north and south of the La Bassee canal.

4—North of Cambrai Berlin claims they threw back the British from their advanced positions by counter attacks.

5—London reports British have gained ground on the outskirts of Cambrai and northwest of the city, but were forced out of Sequehart to the northwest, by violent counter attacks.

6—The French have taken St. Quentin and advanced to the east the line running from Troquey on the Somme to Vendoul on the Oise.

7—The French have made progress towards Leon from the Oise to the Aisne.

8—Ground Retains and between the Aisne and the Vesle rivers the French have advanced, taking Poulillon and Thil and the entire St. Thierry mass. La Neuville, north-west, and Betheny, north of Retina, were taken.

9—Paris reports the French broke through deep wire defenses south of Orfeuil and Liry and took a powerful position by assault.

10—Berlin claims the French attacks have failed between St. Marie A-Py to Monthois. The new German positions run from Monthois, beyond Challerange, to Bois d'Astury, north of Binerville, and straight across Argonne forest to Apremont.

11—Berlin reports the Germans threw back the Americans by local raids in the Des Ognons woods, west of the Meuse.

12—American forces continue strong pressure on Germans between Argonne and Meuse as enemy plans stand on Krimmling-Stellung system of trenches.

BATTLE STATEMENTS

WESTERN FRONT

LONDON REPORT

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The official report issued by the war office tonight said: This morning the enemy attacked strongly northeast of St. Quentin with fresh troops from his reserves and succeeded in pressing back our troops from the village of Sequehart, where his progress stopped.

Local fighting has taken place today north of Crèvecoeur (south of Cambrai) and west of Cambrai, but without material change in the situation. As a result of their operations yesterday and last night in the neighborhood of Cambrai, Canadian troops now hold the suburb of Neuville St. Remy and the high ground west of Hamillies.

Early this morning the enemy commenced to withdraw on a wide front south and north of La Bassee canal. Our troops are following up the withdrawal closely and have taken prisoners.

EARLY REPORT

The test of the earlier report follows: After maintaining strong pressure on the enemy throughout the earlier part of the day, in the afternoon the British second division attacked the center of the German defensive line which runs from Fonsummes to the neighborhood of Beaurevoir. The attack was successful. The village of Sequehart and the hamlet of Preselles were captured and the Fonsummes-Beaurevoir line breached.

North of this point Joncourt was cleared of the enemy and the Australians completed the capture of the enemy's defense south of La Bassee and Gouy.

In the sector south of Cambrai a fierce struggle all day was terminated by a successful attack at dusk, as a result of which New Zealand and Australian troops drove the enemy from Crèvecoeur and Rumilly and established themselves on the high ground east and north of those villages.

Several hundred prisoners were taken by us in these operations.

PARIS REPORT

PARIS, Oct. 2.—The official report issued by the ministry of war tonight says as follows: The enemy has been ejected from St. Quentin, which we completely occupy. We hold Poulillon d'Als.

To the south we have advanced to Hancourt and are holding Moy.

North of the Vesle river we captured Roucy, Gueynourt, Bouffignieux, Villers-Franqueux, and Cauroy and secured our lines to the border south of Cormy and Lohry.

Courcy is in our power.

In Champagne in the course of the afternoon we eased our positions southwest of Orfeuil and gained a footing on the heights south of Monthois.

EARLY REPORT

The test of the earlier report was as follows: In St. Quentin lively fighting took place in the course of the night. The enemy who was thrown back to the east bank of the canal continues to resist with marked energy.

Between the Aisne and the Vesle the French troops gained new advances west of Retina. The French held Poulillon and Thil and the southern outskirts of Villers-Franqueux. The mass of St. Thierry now is in the hands of the French. We also gained ground north of La Neuville and carried our line to the southern outskirts of Betheny.

In the Champagne the night was without change.

AMERICAN REPORT

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—The official report received from Gen. Pershing tonight follows: Section A—Except for heavy shelling and machine gun fire west of the Meuse and at other points held by our troops, nothing of unusual importance has occurred during the day. A partial count of the material captured during the last week, shows 130 guns of all calibers, 750 trench mortars, 200 machine guns, 100 heavy tank guns, thousands of artillery shells and hundreds of thousands of rounds of small arms ammunition.

Section B—The operations in Flanders under the command of the king of Belgium developed favorably despite the resistance of the enemy. The energetic Belgian and French troops made new progress in the direction of Houthemepelle and Roulers. South of Roulers the British troops captured Ledeghem on the Roulers-Menin railway. British detachments crossed the Lys between Wervicq and Comines.

British aerial squadrons bombarded the enemy's positions between the railway station and the town of Sequehart, causing a fire at the railway station. They also broke up several enemy convoys.

BERLIN REPORT

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—The official report issued tonight said: There were violent partial engagements in Flanders and Champagne. Before Cambrai the day passed quietly.

In Flanders, on both sides of the Cambrai and in the Champagne, we watched off violent enemy attacks. In quiet sectors of the front near St. Quentin, northwest of Retina and west of the Argonne, we withdrew parts of our salient lines to positions in the rear.

North of Staden (Belgium) we repulsed off enemy attacks. We captured about 100 prisoners. The enemy attacked on both sides of the roads leading from Tress to Roulers and Menin and obtained a footing in Ledeghem. We captured the eastern part of the place by a counter attack.

Enemy partial attacks south of La Bassee were repulsed.

The fifth day of the battle of Cambrai again ended in complete failure for the enemy. North of Hancourt our troops beat back assaults of the enemy, which he renewed seven times. Further south the enemy pressed forward temporarily beyond Abanplace in the course of the night. The enemy who was thrown back to the east bank of the canal continues to resist with marked energy.

Between the Aisne and the Vesle the French troops gained new advances west of Retina. The French held Poulillon and Thil and the southern outskirts of Villers-Franqueux. The mass of St. Thierry now is in the hands of the French. We also gained ground north of La Neuville and carried our line to the southern outskirts of Betheny.

court, Bantigny, and south of Houthemepelle. Our attack threw the enemy back beyond Abancourt and Bantigny and saved the brave Württemberg defenders of Houthemepelle from being surrounded by the enemy.

At Cambrai and south of it enemy assaults broke down. Rumilly remained in the hands of the enemy.

Between La Bassee and the Oise our front since the night before last has run east of St. Quentin to Berthencourt on the River Oise.

In the course of the day enemy attacks developed against the sector of Bantigny, Juncourt, and Leining. The enemy penetrated our lines on both sides of Sequehart, but a counter attack threw him back again.

St. Quentin, in which only reconnoitering detachments were stationed yesterday, has been occupied by the enemy.

There have been outpost engagements in the region between the Aisne and the Vesle rivers.

Northwest of Retina we withdrew our troops from the River Vesle to positions in the rear. The enemy followed with weak detachments in the evening and occupied the line of Wervicq and Villers-Franqueux.

In the Champagne the French resumed their united attacks. In the forenoon these assaults were directed against the front from St. Marie-A-Py to Monthois, and in the course of the day against the line between Somme and the Aisne. The attacks broke down. Local breaches were cleaned again for the most part by counter attacks.

The new position taken up the night before last on both sides of the River Aisne runs from Monthois, beyond Challerange to the Bois d'Astury, to the north of Binerville, and straight across the forest of Argonne to Apremont.

Advanced guards several times repulsed enemy attacks before these lines. In local raids we threw the Americans back and out of Bois des Ognons and adjacent lines.

BALKAN FRONT

SERBIAN REPORT

LONDON, Oct. 2.—An official report by the Serbian war office says: By about noon, at the moment of ceasing hostilities, we held the line from Obosna, in the mountain region, to Malash to Tarni Kamen, to the north of Chirvo, and the Bulgarian frontier between Shablar and Grahovo. In the evening we entered Kumanovo.

The Bulgarian troops are returning to Bulgarian territory.

SIBERIAN FRONT

LONDON REPORT

LONDON, Oct. 2.—An official report dealing with operations in northern Siberia says: From further information received of the capture of Ukhinskaya, reported Sept. 30, and the subsequent pursuit of the enemy, it appears that this town, which was intended as the base of operations in Karelia, had been fortified under German supervision and that very heavy casualties were inflicted on the enemy during the fighting.

The pursuit of the enemy has been highly successful. One body was rounded up near Kostomujkaya, forty miles south of Ukhinskaya, and the remainder of the enemy forces, including 300 reinforcements, now is surrounded near Yekhanavalokya, thirty miles southwest of Ukhinskaya, east of the Finnish frontier.

The total of the losses in killed in these operations already exceeds 160, and southern Karelia has been cleared of enemy troops except those mentioned above.

NEW RUSS DUMA CRUSHES BUDDING SIBERIAN TYRANT

Thin American Line Busy in North Russia Under Aurora Borealis.

VLADIVOSTOK, Sunday, Sept. 22.—[By the Associated Press.]—Serious trouble has occurred at Omsk between the cabinet recently organized there and other leaders. An attempt was made under the leadership of Minister of War Mikhailov to force a resignation of the cabinet. The duma was then declared dissolved by the administrative council, which has been organized by Mikhailov to succeed the cabinet.

The members of the duma refused to dissolve that body and declared the administrative council abolished. They released the ministers who had been arrested and imprisoned Minister Mikhailov. Democratic organizations in Omsk and Tomsk are supporting the cabinet.

During the trouble Minister Novikov refused to resign and was shot to death.

CZECH ARMY IN OMSK.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—Czech-Slovak authorities at Omsk, by placing a strong military force in the city, have brought a quick end to the attempt of Minister of War Mikhailov to force a resignation of the cabinet.

ALLIES NEAR KOTLAS.
ARCHANGEL, Monday, Sept. 30.—[By the Associated Press.]—American, British, Russian, and French troops to day occupy villages on both banks of the Dvina river to a point 135 miles north of Kotlas, in the government of Vologda. They have advanced seventy-five miles in the last two weeks and they now are about 575 miles southeast of Archangel. The river is blocked further south by Bolshevik mines and barges, which have been sunk in the channel.

Up the Vaga river, however, progress is unobstructed and Americans are among the forces occupying the important town of Shunkursk. The aurora borealis is already shining in the northern sky. In their advance up the Dvina the land forces have met with virtually no resistance since Sept. 21, when the Americans were subjected to heavy machine gun fire for five hours at Belokh. Nevertheless, they held their unshaken position until the river fleet came to their aid. The Americans then captured the town.

This Yankee Line.
Since then it has been a case of finding the Bolsheviks, who are believed to be somewhere above the closed channel of the Dvina. This line of American troops is holding many villages amid the woods and muddy river fields which lately dot the Dvina region. North of Belokh, which is near the confluence of the Dvina and Vaga rivers, villages had not been molested by the Bolsheviks in their flight from Archangel. They fled so fast that they did not stop anywhere until the Moscow authorities halted them at Belokh. They were given a hearty welcome.

The Bolsheviks took from Archangel the best fast Mississippi river type of passenger boats, leaving the allies an odd collection of craft which is doing splendid service against the faster vessels in command of the enemy.

SPITZBERGEN MINES SEIZED.
LONDON, Oct. 2.—[By the Associated Press.]—The British expedition to Spitzbergen, including a big wireless installation, is reported by the Express with the information that the work of developing immensely rich iron and coal deposits is proceeding. The expedition to Spitzbergen sailed a few months ago under the protection of the British navy. Sir Ernest Shackleton, the famous antarctic explorer, was the commander, but he was subsequently obliged to leave to take up other duties.

HELP TO ALLIES.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—The seizure of Spitzbergen by the British is expected to prove of great assistance to the Russian government of the north at Archangel. A short time ago an American engineer made an exhaustive examination of the coal and other deposits in Spitzbergen, and it was largely due to his report that the British expedition whose success now is reported was undertaken.

It is also thought here that occupation of Spitzbergen may result in stopping the proposed withdrawal of the Czech-Slovak troops from the Volga front, a movement that has been contemplated for some weeks. With the allied troops driving rapidly southeast from Archangel, it is believed they will soon be able to effect a junction with the Czechs on the Volga.

BRITISH SHIPS

Baker Arranges for Further
Cooperation on U. S. Army Program.

LONDON, Tuesday, Oct. 1.—Newton D. Baker, American secretary of war, issued the following statement here tonight: "The primary purpose of my visit to London was to arrange for further cooperation in the matter of shipping to carry out the enlarged military program upon which America has embarked. The result of conferences on this subject appear in the transactions of the interallied maritime council, but I am happy to give public expression to my high appreciation of the cordial way in which the British government has worked.

"Transportation of the vast army of Americans now in France has been possible only because of the assistance rendered by British ships. The whole exploit is a fine example of interallied cooperation and arrangements have been made to give a fresh illustration of the heartiness with which the allied nations are associating their means and facilities for the common cause.

"This visit to England has given me the opportunity, which I did not have before, to visit some camps, hospitals, and other facilities provided for us here. The story of what has been done in the United Kingdom for American soliders will be eagerly read in America, and will form another bond of friendly feeling between the peoples of the two great nations."

ish expedition of a German mining property and other development plants in Spitzbergen, including a big wireless installation, is reported by the Express with the information that the work of developing immensely rich iron and coal deposits is proceeding.

The expedition to Spitzbergen sailed

a few months ago under the protection of the British navy. Sir Ernest

Shackleton, the famous antarctic explorer, was the commander, but he was subsequently obliged to leave to take up other duties.

HELP TO ALLIES.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—The seizure of Spitzbergen by the British is expected to prove of great great assistance to the Russian government of the north at Archangel. A short time ago an American engineer made an exhaustive examination of the coal and other deposits in Spitzbergen, and it was largely due to his report that the British expedition whose success now is reported was undertaken.

It is also thought here that occupation of Spitzbergen may result in stopping the proposed withdrawal of the

Czech-Slovak troops from the Volga front, a movement that has been contemplated for some weeks. With the allied troops driving rapidly southeast from Archangel, it is believed they will soon be able to effect a junction with the Czechs on the Volga.

STRONG BULGAR POSTS SEIZED BEFORE TRUCE

Anti-German Riots in the Conquered Country, London Hears.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—Sharp fighting continued on the Macedonian front up to noon Monday, when the Bulgarian armistice became effective.

In the region north of Monastir Italian forces took Mont Baba, a position of much military importance. The Bulgarians kept up a vicious machine gun fight to the last and were supported by infantry and numerous batteries of field artillery. The enemy, however, was driven back and the Italians occupied the position.

When operations were suspended the Bulgarians held the high ground between Oskub and the Bulgarian border. On the extreme left allied troops had completed the occupation of Struga, further north.

In the region of Lakes Prespa and Ohrida, on the Serbian-Albanian border, the Austrians are putting up a stiff resistance to the allied pressure.

Rioting in Bulgaria? Anti-German and pacifist riots are in progress throughout Bulgaria, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Journal. It is added that rumors are current of the formation of a national cabinet in Bulgaria under the leadership of Premier Malinoff and Dr. Ghenchov, released from prison a few days ago under a pardon by King Ferdinand.

Bulgars Leaving Serbia. LONDON, Oct. 2.—Serbia is being evacuated by the Bulgarian troops, who are returning to Bulgarian territory, according to the Serbian official statement of Tuesday night.

"Deserters" Driven Back. AMSTERDAM, Oct. 2.—A Sofia dispatch, dated Monday, and received through Vienna, says:

"The deserters were advancing as Sofia have been driven back to Vlasia and Vitoz defile by government troops. There is no danger for the capital."

Salesman, Nice Clergyman, Arrested on Spy Charge. Patrick J. Flynn, 45 years old, a former salesman and at present a stock salesman of Riceville, Pa., was taken into custody at the Saratoga hotel last night by Deputy Marshal T. C. Smith on a federal warrant charging violation of the espionage act.

The warrant was taken out at Duquesne, Pa., by M. A. Sweeney, a banker of Erie, Pa., and chairman of the savings stamp committee of Mitchell county. It is charged that Flynn was obstructing the loan campaign in the district by openly making seditious statements.

Flynn denied the charges and produced letters indicating he had offered his services to a relief organization to go abroad.

Two Boys and Two Girls Hurt in Motorcycle Crash. Two boys and two girls on motorcycles crashed into a van at Thirty-first street and Union avenue last night. The boys were badly hurt, but the girls were able to go home.

The names of the victims are: Corallus Boys, 20, of Summit; Richard Wessmeh, 21, of Summit; Lillian Blessing, 15, 1547 West Thirty-fourth street; and Vera Bagauna, 11, 4202 South Western avenue.

Former Fire Captain's Skull Fractured in Fall. Capt. Patrick Nolan, 43 years old, former captain of engine company No. 1, who was injured last year when he fell from the roof of a burning building at West Madison and Morgan streets, fell down the stairs to the basement in engine house No. 34, 328 South Jefferson street, last night. He was taken to the county hospital suffering from a fractured skull. It was said at the hospital he may die.

Taggers Gather Good Fund for Children's Home. Chicagoans contributed several thousand dollars yesterday to the Protestant Home for Children, the officials of which had a city council order to hold a general "tag day."

ALLENBY TAKES DAMASCUS AND 7,000 TURKS

Fall of the Syrian Capital Severe Blow to Moslems in Holy Land.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The allied governments have decided formally to recognize the belligerent status of the Arab forces fighting auxiliaries with the allies against the common enemy in Palestine and Syria.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Damascus, the capital of Syria, was occupied by Gen. Allenby's forces Tuesday morning, according to an official statement issued today by the British war office.

More than 7,000 Turks were taken prisoner when British forces occupied the city.

The war office announcement says: "Troops of an Australian mounted division entered Damascus" Monday night. At 6 a. m. Oct. 1 the city was occupied by the British forces and by a portion of the Arab army of King Hussein. Over 7,000 prisoners were taken.

"After its surrender, with the exception of necessary guards, all the allied troops were withdrawn from the city for the time being. The local authorities remain responsible for its administration."

BLOW TO TURKS. Damascus is the Turkish base in Syria, and its fall probably means the end of all Turkish resistance to Gen. Allenby in Palestine and Syria. The ancient city is the junction point of railroads leading to the port of Beirut and Aleppo, 180 miles northeast.

Aleppo is the most important Turkish base in this region of Asia Minor, as it is a junction point of the railroad from Palestine to Mesopotamia.

Holy City of Mohammedans. Damascus has a population of about 150,000. It is one of the holy cities of the Mohammedans, and the Arabs regard it as one of the four paradises on earth.

The capture of Damascus marks an advance of 130 miles by Gen. Allenby's forces since Sept. 20, the day he launched his victorious attack north of Jerusalem. In that time the British have captured more than 50,000 prisoners, destroyed at least three Turkish armies, and driven the enemy from Palestine and a great part of Syria.

AUTO VIOLATES LAW; TWO HURT. Two men were struck by an automobile which passed a street car discharging passengers at North Western avenue and Addison street last night, and one is in a critical condition. The injured are:

J. F. REINHARDT, 68 years old, 3629 North Claremont avenue; probable fracture of the skull, scalp wounds, car torn off and internal injuries; in Alexian Brothers' hospital.

H. C. SANDERS, 3625 North Irving avenue; scalp wound and bruises; taken to his home.

The automobile did not stop, but witnesses caught the number. Two hours later Detective Sergeant Conroy and Wells arrested Edward C. Britz, 1535 Rosemont street, president of the Edward C. Britz Woolen Manufacturing company, 104 South Michigan boulevard, in the garage at the rear of his home.

BALKING JURY IN TUTHILL'S COURT BROUGHT TO TIME. Written instructions to return a verdict for the plaintiff were given a jury yesterday by Judge Tuthill and disobeyed for a time. B. A. L. Thomson sued Normal Carroll of 2225 Greenwood avenue on a note for $1,300 given to the Colonial Trust company in 1911. Judge Tuthill's instructions read: "The jury is instructed to find the issues for the plaintiff and assess damages on suit note with interest at 5 per cent per annum."

In a short time the foreman returned and said the jury was unable to find a verdict in accordance with the instructions. According to the foreman, the judge said if the jurors did not bring in a verdict as instructed he would hold them in contempt of court and have them locked up all night, if necessary.

Twice Rejected, Chicagoan Wins Croix de Guerre. Son of Maj. Carpenter Joins French to Get Into Battle.

Over on the battlefields of France is a 22 year old Chicago boy, rejected by both the American army and navy because of a "leaky heart valve," with a Croix de Guerre pinned on his coat. He is Ben Carpenter Jr., son of Maj. Benjamin Carpenter, who resigned as senior partner of George B. Carpenter & Co. at the outbreak of the war to join the quartermaster's department at Washington. Ben Jr. is a nephew of Judge George A. Carpenter of the United States District court. The news of his decoration by France reached Chicago yesterday.

Young Carpenter's war history reads like fiction. At the outbreak of hostilities he was a senior at Harvard university. He went to the Flatbush officers' training camp. The leaky heart valve was discovered and he failed. Then he tried the navy, but after a training cruise the "valve" led to his rejection.

He came back to Chicago and was asked by the University club to pilot an ambulance it was sending to France. He took the job, but immediately upon landing "ever there" he deserted and for six months drove a French ammunition truck. He followed this up by driving a Red Cross ambulance for three months.

In June came the chance for active service he had been awaiting. With forty other American boys he entered the French army artillery school at Fontainebleau. There was a class of 255. He graduated No. 1. He at once started active service with the Ninth French artillery regiment at the front. Word yesterday stated that in addition to the bravery medal he would receive a commission on Sept. 13.

AGED MOTHER OF THREE SOLDIERS FACES EVICTION. Threatened with eviction because $16 "two months' rent" is due Mrs. Augusta Basts, 1810 West Twenty-first street, told Judge Haas in the court of forcible detainer yesterday that her trouble comes from having given three sons to the army. She added: "And a fourth is going soon."

Then the court said to her: "Eight dollars a month isn't much rent. If it was me I'd go out and scrub for it if necessary. You look like a big, strong woman. How old are you?"

"I'm 67," she said. The case was continued for investigation.

Mrs. Annelia Hoppe, bride of William Hoppe, blazer, said she had been asked to move twice since her marriage on Aug. 28. She balked when Mrs. J. Pilot asked her to move out of an apartment at 2453 Walton place.

"She didn't say anything until she found out my husband was a sailor," she said. "We'd gone to the expense of moving in. I don't think it is fair." Judge Haas advised her to move.

Threatened with eviction because $16 "two months' rent" is due Mrs. Augusta Basts, 1810 West Twenty-first street, told Judge Haas in the court of forcible detainer yesterday that her trouble comes from having given three sons to the army. She added: "And a fourth is going soon."

Then the court said to her: "Eight dollars a month isn't much rent. If it was me I'd go out and scrub for it if necessary. You look like a big, strong woman. How old are you?"

"I'm 67," she said. The case was continued for investigation.

Mrs. Annelia Hoppe, bride of William Hoppe, blazer, said she had been asked to move twice since her marriage on Aug. 28. She balked when Mrs. J. Pilot asked her to move out of an apartment at 2453 Walton place.

"She didn't say anything until she found out my husband was a sailor," she said. "We'd gone to the expense of moving in. I don't think it is fair." Judge Haas advised her to move.

JOBS PARK RIDGE
BANK OF $2,000;
BANDIT CAUGHT

Seized by a Thrown Stone and Captured in a Cornfield.

Conrad Noelle of 4001 Warwick avenue, formerly a timekeeper for a street car concern, held up and robbed the Park Ridge State bank of $2,000 yesterday afternoon. Fifteen minutes after the robbery he was captured in a nearby cornfield.

During the noon hour, when no one was in the bank except the clerk, Noelle entered and thrust a note at the teller.

Teller Reads Threat.
"Mr. Noelle, the teller, read: 'Stand over $20,000 damn quick. First try or else move I'll stick a hole through you. Move fast, as I mean business. No monkey business, as I will enough nitro to blow this place all in it to hell.'"

Noelle, thinking that a patron of the bank was playing a joke on him, stepped up and smiled.

Noelle faded into the barrel of a revolver. Noelle was standing at one of the windows with his hat drawn over his eyes. When the teller stepped forward.

"Quick," he said, "give me the money or I'll kill you."

King Burglar Alarm.
Noelle placed his foot on the burglar alarm, which rang outside and in the police station across the street.

Noelle, with his hat tucked inside his coat, ran up Norwood avenue and down the Northwestern tracks to a cornfield.

Noelle, picking up a revolver, fired after him and automobiles filled the Park Ridge business men joined in pursuit.

Grapples with Robber.
James Gill, driver of a delivery truck, was gaining on Noelle, when he was summoned to throw up his hands by the robber, who took refuge in a dry goods box near one corner of the field. Gill picked up a stone and threw it at the robber, striking him on the head and dazing him. Before Noelle could recover himself Gill was upon him and wrestling with him, and reached the police station declared he planned to rob the Irving Trust bank yesterday morning, but his plans failed him.

Women Terror Stricken.
Mrs. Emma Koch, stenographer, and Mrs. Laura Haber, who was selling bonds at a desk in the bank, were so frightened to cry out.

SHOE MAXIMUM, $12
Industries Board Regulates
Price and Promotes Better Quality, Too.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 2.—The American people soon will be able to purchase shoes at fixed maximum and minimum retail prices, lower than those now prevailing, and obtain at the same time shoes of better quality. This announcement was made today by the war industries board, based on an agreement it has entered into with the shoe industry.

Under the agreement shoes will be standardized as to quality and style at prices ranging from $3 to $12 for men and women, grouped as follows: Class A, from $9 to $12; class B, $6 to $8.50; and class C, $3 to $5.50. Proportionate prices for youth and children's shoes have been fixed.

The war industries board will check up on the quality of the shoes sold at each price by means of a class number stamped in each shoe. Policing officials explained, will be done by the various state councils of defense.

Officials said that it will be possible to buy better quality shoes throughout the three classes at less money than at present. Shoes now retailing for as high as $20, they said, will retail for the maximum price of $12 and be of at least equal quality.

The cutting of shoes under the new schedule will begin Oct. 15. Time is allowed retailers to dispose of present stocks at present prices.

One witness for "Prince Arthur" Quinn, on trial on a charge of receiving stolen property, was taken into custody last night, and State's Attorney Hoyne designated three assistants to make a "thorough investigation" of a complaint to him that perjury had been committed in the case. The man taken into custody is Herman Grebbsch, 67 West Huron street, a deputy clerk in a municipal court.

The arrest came after a train of character witnesses had passed in and out of the witness chair for the most of the day, each telling of the sterling qualities of "Prince Arthur," son of "Hot Steve Jimmy," north side politician. Mr. Hoyne said:

"I have been informed by Mr. Frystalski, who is prosecuting this case, that there is a probability of rank perjury on behalf of the defense by a number of witnesses, including police officers of the city of Chicago.

"There is no reason to arrest the police officers tonight as we believe they will not leave the city and that we can get them any time we want them. The other we will try to apprehend tonight."

Police Here a Witness.
Mr. Hoyne did not name those he intended to take into custody. Among the witnesses who testified on behalf of Quinn yesterday are the following:

Paul Holm, detective sergeant, who recently figured as the hero in the arrest of Max Miller, burglar, in a gun battle with police; told of the good character of "Prince Arthur."

James Carney, detective sergeant, told of long acquaintance with Quinn and his father and said their reputations were good; swore Julius Friedlander, one of the state's witnesses, told him he "just put Quinn into the case" because his father had influence and could get them all out; that he said: "I never gave Quinn any jewelry."

Barkeepers and Showman.
Thomas Sweeney, uniformed policeman, said he met Friedlander on North Clark street and talked with him and he said he never gave Quinn any jewelry.

Edward Altman, bartender in Silver's saloon, 67 North Clark street, Arthur T. Ott, 531 North Dearborn street, "outdoor showman," he said; operates concession at Riverview park showing a fat lady, skeleton, and some midgets.

Phillip Barry, bartender in Silver's saloon, named by state's witnesses as a meeting place between Quinn and Burglar Froehowald.

On cross examination Policemen Carney and Sweeney were asked if they had ever reported to any superior officer or the state's attorney's office that Friedlander had told them he had "framed" to get "Prince Arthur" into the case, and that he had never figured in any stolen jewelry deals. Each said he had told no one of the statement except Quinn.

Assistant State's Attorneys William Duval, John Frystalski, and John Lowery, named by Mr. Hoyne to investigate the reports of perjury, examined Arthur Ott, the showman, for two hours last night. It was intimated that the state may recall Ott and Grebbsch to the stand this morning.

Quinn's Worked for Four Years.
Quinn, on cross examination, admitted he had not worked in four years. He explained that previous to that time he had been a secretary to his father, then one of Mayor Harrison's "cabinet members."

Prince Arthur denied that on the night he was arrested he told the police that he could "go out and get the jewelry and bring in the burglars, too."

Capt. Russell and Detective Sergeant George Demar were placed on the stand and testified he had told them that.

Man protested violently that he was not sick. Doctor replied that he had been sick since first bowel irregularity. Prescribed complete rest and the Nujol Treatment. Said if he had cultivated regular habits with Nujol he would have had no trouble—now, however, he was an easy mark for the poisoning he was allowing in his own body.

It was first reported that William Wrigley, manufacturer, had sponsored Williamson. William Wrigley's not figure in the case.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Somebody told us that the government says it is extremely advisable to wear seal coats this winter. We don't know how true that is, but we do know one thing. Replacing our woolen garments with fur is one of the most agreeable forms of patriotic self-denial of which we have heard.

Here, for instance, in this Lanvin model just come over we find one of the new performing seal coats. Observe the deep cask collar and the double pockets on the hips. These double pockets and the narrow belt are features of which Lanvin makes much and one of her most successful coat designs strongly resembles this "mantle." The deep collar reaching in to the point to the waist line in the back is a detail found both in coats of fur and in those where only the collar and cuffs are felt.

It's Nice to Know

You're Not Forgotten
BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY

WAS IT YOU?
Lunching downtown the other day a woman passed the table at which two women were seated, bowing to one and calling her distinctly by name. "For the life of me," I can't remember her name," the woman addressed confessed. "Isn't it disgusting to have a memory like that and how embarrassing it would be to have to ask her to introduce me?"

"For the life of me," I can't remember her name," the woman addressed confessed. "Isn't it disgusting to have a memory like that and how embarrassing it would be to have to ask her to introduce me?"

Art Alliance

Elects Officers

At the business meeting of the Illinois chapter of the Art Alliance of America yesterday afternoon in Fullerton hall of the Art Institute, it was decided that two exhibitions of industrial art should be held this year and prizes offered, so that the best effort along this line might be incited. A monthly luncheon will be held, at which art and trade shall be more closely united, and on each occasion a distinct industry will be discussed. G. W. Stevens was elected president; Lionel Robertson first vice president; and W. W. Buchanan second vice president. James McNulty is secretary and Frank G. Logan treasurer.

Women in Wartime

Antonia Barthelmy, French consul, will make the principal address at the first open meeting of the Friends of France this afternoon at 4 o'clock in Fullerton hall of the Art Institute. Mme. Sarah Bernhardt and her granddaughter, Mlle. Lydiane Bernhardt, are expected to be present.

Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy, associate director of the bureau of personnel of the central division, American Red Cross, presided yesterday at a luncheon and meeting of Red Cross workers of the five states in the central district, who met at the Blackstone to discuss plans of recruiting women for overseas service. Mrs. Cudahy announced it was the intention of the society to prepare and send overseas 340 trained Red Cross women workers before Nov. 1.

A new station for receiving used clothing to be sent to the Belgians has been opened at 1357 East Fifty-fifth street by Mrs. E. E. Lloyd.

Another class for volunteers helping to answer questionnaires will be held today at 120 West Adams street.

A rally of the Girls' Patriotic Service league will be held on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Gads Hill center. A $250 gold piece, "the American medal," was won yesterday by Miss Belle Fireman of the Thirtieth ward, who has obtained the signatures of 300 housewives, who pledged themselves to sell all the junk in their houses for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Members of Chicago chapter, D. A. R., who expect to take part in the Women's War Work parade, are asked to report at 10 a. m. today in the Red Cross rooms of the chapter in the Stevens building.

Chicagoans Aviation

Chiefs in Europe
BY CAROLYN WILSON

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—Three well-known Chicagoans are in the supply of aviation. Maj. Merrill Dunn, who got his new promotion just recently, is chief of the purchasing department of aviation for all Europe. Maj. Dunn has been over here since last November and has always been occupied with this branch of the service in Paris.

In his same department is Lieut. A. L. Tilden, vice president of the Ford Dearborn bank. He has charge of the airplane and motor division, which necessitates a supervision over all planes purchased from the French and over their distribution to the different camps and schools.

Maj. S. A. Preston of Chicago has turned his knowledge of railroad supplies to use as the head of the material department for Europe. He too has just received his promotion.

The difficulties of this department of aviation can be realized when one considers the use the French can make of their own machines and their reluctance to part either with machines or supplies to the Americans, since their factories turn out only a specified amount.

Singing Sailors

at the Auditorium

Pleasant emotions are available when the Great Lakes sailors lift their voices in song, which frequently they do in their current "rolle" at the Auditorium. They are an agreeable company of youngsters, these singing bluesackers, and the music they make is conducive to wholesome reactions. This time the sailors, which annoyed many patrons of their previous exhibitions, are absent, and the show is 98 per cent male.

It is all about a rookie who, commissioned admiral by Neptune in a dream, produces the "Great Lakes Revue" in front of the Administration building. Many of the navy's best pianists, violinists, vocalists, dancers and acrobats perform in this "revue"—Rupp and Linton, the Great Lakes quartette, Carlton, Rosenberg and Sobel; the "J's De" trio, Benny Kubelsky, Harry Fender, Duke Staples, Walter Peterson and other musical celebrities of the ocean waves. The boys give "Good-Bye, America," in a fashion that puts a lump in your throat, and there is a fine orchestra directed by James O'Keefe, the composer. All this week at the Auditorium, next week at Medinah Temple.

Woman Lawyer to Speak

Miss Mary McNulty of Ottawa, Canada, member of the Ontario bar, will address the workers of the South Shore County club Red Cross auxiliary this morning at 11 o'clock. Miss McNulty is a niece of Charles Antoine of the club.

Ministers Hear Bishop Quayle Attack Germany

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Bishop W. A. Quayle, who presided yesterday at the Rock River conference in the Sheridan Road Methodist Episcopal church, made three contributions to the spirit of patriotism.

At the beginning of the session he delivered an address denouncing Germany's attitude in the severest terms. Just before adjournment he held up his hand and announced the news of the capture of Damagum.

In the afternoon he delivered an eulogy on the life of Mark Shepard, son of Bishop W. O. Shepard, who died last Thursday at Great Lakes.

"If any of us have enough false patriotism to let bygones be bygones with the Germans," he said in his morning address, "then all the men, munitions, and tears of women have been spent in vain."

"If the Germans want me to shake their bloody hands let them meet their hands first. The Bible says, 'Love your enemies.' We do love them so much we want to see them clean the blood from their hands. I'd love to see them clean enough to love. What is more, we intend to look them until they are so. They will have to rehabilitate every ruin, every little home, every little doghouse. They will do it if it takes them a thousand years."

A resolution was passed by the conference petitioning President Wilson and Secretary of the Navy Daniels to make Chicago a war zone, thus prohibiting vice and liquor.

In a report last evening the Rev. C. A. Kelley, secretary of the fund, announced the endowment fund for retired ministers of the conference had reached a total of over $400,000. The work of collecting will continue until the $500,000 mark is passed.

The officers of the conference elected at the morning session were: The Rev. C. D. Wilson, Rockford, secretary; the Rev. E. K. Carpenter, Oak Park, treasurer; and the Rev. T. K. Gale, Joliet, statistician.

Sunday Evening Club to Open Next Sunday

The opening meeting of the Chicago Sunday Evening club's twelfth season will take place at Orchestra hall next Sunday. It will be marked by a celebration of Illinois' centennial year.

The principal speaker being Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, pastor of Central church. His subject will be "Illinois and the Humanity She Has Grown."

The dominant note of the addresses to be presented during this season will be patriotism and loyal support of the war.

For the first time since this organization was founded, its president, Clifford W. Barnes, who, with a group of Chicago business men, brought the club into existence, will be absent. It now appears probable he will not preside over any of the meetings during this season, which extends from October to June, 1919.

War Camp Workers Meet

Mrs. Percy V. Penney, former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, yesterday addressed the conference of War Camp Community Service Workers at the Hotel La Salle. Mrs. Julia Evans Cowles, who also addressed the meeting, pledged the cooperation of all the units in the federation of which she is president.

Woman's Press Dinner

The Illinois Woman's Press association will give a patriotic dinner and flag raising tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the Morrison hotel. A bluesack band, a number of army officers, and some visiting French and Italian officers will be guests.

Bright Sayings of the Children

"The Tribune" will pay $1 in cash for the best story told by a child under 12 years of age. The story must be original and must be submitted to the editor of the Tribune, Chicago, by the child's name and address.

We had tried much for breakfast and my little girl asked to be helped to some. I, selecting a nice brown piece, laid it on her plate, and she said, "Mother, I don't like rusty mush."

Henry was learning to read and liked to practice. He lived near a theater, which he sometimes visited when it was open for cleaning. Returning one day after roaming about the building, he told his parents:

"There's going to be a big excitement in the theater tonight."

"What makes you think so?" they asked.

"It says so over the door—3-4-4."

Marjorie was telling her next door neighbor about her contemplated visit with her mother and father to the national capital.

"And I expect I'll see my Uncle Sam there, too," she concluded.

"Way, I don't know you had an Uncle Sam," was the surprised answer. "O, didn't you?" came the patronizing reply. "He's that man what lives in the White House."

How Prohibition Originated Told

BY OLIVER McEWAN

[Grand Chief Templar I. O. G. T. Grand Lodge of Illinois.]

Prohibition has become a household word. Everybody knows it and comprehends what it means, but few are acquainted with its origin.

In 1851, in the city of New York, there was instituted a society destined to become one of the greatest temperance organizations in the world. Its symbol was composed of the letters "I. O. G. T." meaning Independent Order of Good Templars, later changed to International Order of Good Templars on account of its then growing international popularity. It spread with great rapidity, first to the British Isles, then to Sweden, Germany, France, extending farther and farther east and west, until today its lodges are to be found in every land.

From Greenland's ice mountains To India's coral strand,

It was the first fraternal society to admit women on equal terms with men, allowing them to hold offices and to take part in discussions, as well as to vote. Out of it sprang the Women's Christian Temperance union.

Its greatest achievement, however, was in starting the movement for prohibition, which it pushed with an energy and devotion that defied ridicule and laughed at every obstacle, so that now the great goal has almost been won and a few months will see America a "saloonless nation."

The Illinois section of the I. O. G. T. begins its sixty-third annual session tomorrow, and various meetings will be held throughout the week. Chicago point assess the oldest lodge of the order in America, the Star of Hope lodge, No. 15, organized in 1854.

"THE ROMANCE OF TARZAN"

Produced by First National. THE CAST: Tarzan.....Elmo Lincoln His sweetheart.....Elinor Markay The professor.....Thomas Jefferson The importer Lord Greylock.....Colin Kenny Belle Odine.....Gloria Madison Madeline Odine.....Marie Rins

By Mae Tins. "The Romance of Tarzan" concludes the adventures of "Tarzan of the Apes," for which I give thanks.

Those who enjoyed the first picture will like the second one just as well. Those who did not care for the first will like the second better, for several new characters have been introduced, and the story is more interesting and more lively toward the production.

I refer especially to Glor Madison as a woman of the dance halls and Monte Blue, that dark-browed young gentleman who always plays sinister roles so well.

In this edition Mr. Tarzan of the Apes, who is in reality Lord Greylock, with a quartet of blue blood, running through abnormally large veins in a monstrous body, deserts his native jungle for America. Hither he follows the girl—the only woman he has ever seen and whom he has chosen for his mate. He has wild experiences before he finally wins her for his own. For importer Lord Greylock is quite anxious to do away with him and is also in love with the lady of Tarzan's choice.

It does not find it in me to anthologize greatly over the work of Elmo Lincoln or Miss Markay. Mr. Lincoln is, however, about the best person I know of for the part, for he is a giant physically and has enough idea of acting to carry him through. Perhaps you're crazy about them both. I hope so, for I should love to have you enjoy yourselves.

Personally, neither staging nor direction appealed to me. I think, however, that there were many who were greatly thrilled by the first picture. If so, I do not find it in me to fault the values to carry him through. Perhaps you're crazy about them both. I hope so, for I should love to have you enjoy yourselves.

HARVESTING TENDER VEGETABLES.

TOMATOES.—Harvest them entirely now, whatever their state of development. Use the green fruits for pickling within a few days; the ripe may keep two or three weeks if stored in a cool, frost-free, dry place. Those showing slight color may be put off with a portion of the fruit stem and laid on shelves for further ripening. The storing of the entire vine is unnecessary, as it does not affect the ripening.

TURNIPS.—Early varieties sown in late summer—Use up now as they have no keeping quality. If any remain, at freezing, we can store them temporarily in sand.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Q.—Our carrots and beets all had large tops, but very thin roots. Why? A. The carrots are all infested with a quickly moving, fat, oval, gray bug, about a half inch long, sitting on the roots by the hundreds. What are they? What causes them? What will prevent them next year? A. We had to use fresh manure last spring containing some shavings. Is that the cause? A. I incline to believe so. I incline to believe so. I incline to believe so.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Turnip English Fashion.

Let us reason together about the turnip, the rutabaga. As purchased it averages 42.5 per cent water. The edible portion has from 37.1 per cent to 51.8 per cent water. It also contains some sugar. Sugar dissolves in water, therefore, likely all the sugar in the turnip is in solution in the water of the turnip. You can dilute water. The water of the turnip is diluted when this vegetable is cooked in a lot of water.

Two or three drops of lemon in a tablespoon of sweetened water may taste like lemonade, but if this is stirred into half a cup of water, the mixture is simply insipid.

The sweet water of the turnip with its dissolved sugar is treated in the same way when the turnip is cooked in a lot of water. Worse than this, there seems to be in the fiber of the turnip the same sort of an element we find in a tea leaf, an element brought out by boiling tea until it is bitter. If this is the case, the turnip is a poor source of sweet water of the turnip is diluted, and the whole in the end thrown away, we get a rather tasteless residue. If in addition, we cook the turnip long enough after that, the more, the more we have a sort of wet and bitter macerated straw.

Almost any rutabaga turnip, unless it is actually starchy, is sweet when raw. It will scrape up to a sweet and delicious food.

To cook turnip English fashion, dice it or cut in inch square pieces; add only so much water as you can cook away easily; cover the pan, and when the water boils turn the fire low until the turnip is nearly done, then turn up the fire and let the water cook away while the turnip becomes tender. Serve hot with butter, salt, and pepper. It is good cold. Turnip so cooked may be mashed. No solids of any sort are lost.

A French method is much like this except that the turnip are sautéed in butter or other fat first, a small amount of boiling water added, and when the turnip is cooked it is seasoned with a pinch of sugar, pepper, a tiny point of mustard, and two or three tablespoons of cream. The mustard must be added with extreme care, as too much spoils the turnip.

You want to cover some object. In that case prune out the oldest wood while dormant, in winter, and train it as you please. 6. Preferably by layering, though seedling is possible. 7. Spray the bush and feed the ground annually and the flowers will increase from year to year.

More than 3,000,000 men are in service. More than 15,000,000 are doing our work. We are short 18,000,000 men if we could keep industry as it was in peace time. There is but one thing for us to do. Each one of us must reduce our consumption of time and man-power.

Is the human mechanism equal to the driving pace of wartime work?

America is pouring out her energy to accomplish great tasks. Is our determination to work at superhuman speed backed by a real energy-saving program?

AS men take on new burdens, and as women step into the places of those who have gone to the front, the problem of combating fatigue is being carefully studied by scientists, to make sure that human strength shall be equal to the demands upon it.

The command has gone out to work or fight. Fatigue must not retard this gigantic task which America has undertaken. "Fatigue is like the clogging of the wheels in some mechanism by dirt," says the British Health of Munition Workers Committee.

Fatigue causes mistakes

When you suffer from fatigue you fail to do your work well and although you may extend your efforts to the utmost you are not giving all that lies in your power to forward our colossal tasks. You make mistakes which set back the work to be done and which cost money and effort to correct. You prevent yourself from rising to a better position — you rob America of an important part of your ability.

"Muscle fatigue produces a change in chemical conditions and produces so-called fatigue poisons," says the Life Extension Institute. Yet it is the little unseen but continual losses of energy which produce over-fatigue. The great British authority, H. J. Spooner, says—"It is commonly known that fatigue may be due to anything that affects the nervous system." Later he says, "The history of fatigue abounds in cases in which some trifling matter has been found to be the cause of fatigue."

Nerve shocks from pavements

The average person takes about 8000 steps every day. With every step a jolt is communicated to the body. You may not feel each one, but by the end of the day the results are evident.

You might walk for hours on the soft turf, or stride along a country road without being fatigued. Yet pounding over hard pavements, walking through office or factory building, moving about the house on hard floors, exhaust you.

The incessant jars and shocks as your heels strike hard surfaces, are communicated to your delicate nervous system and make you a victim of over-fatigue before the day's work is done.

It is your duty to avoid fatigue in every way, to accomplish your tasks with speed and accuracy.

Change hard pavements to cushioned paths

The shock and jar of every step you take on hard pavements and hardwood floors wastes your strength and leaves you over-fatigued. You must save your nervous system from this needless shock and continuous drain.

DR. ROBERTSON PREDICTS SMALL INFLUENZA TOLL

Estimates Frighten Public, He Thinks; Urges All Precautions.

Returning from Washington, where he conferred with heads of the United States public health service, Health Commissioner Robertson yesterday attempted to put a quietus on speculation the alarm that has been sounded in Chicago over the influenza-pneumonia pandemic.

Without criticizing his associates in the city, he pointed out the assistance of the National Council of Defense to handle the Illinois situation. He made apparent his belief that the public had been unnecessarily frightened. But he did it in a manner as subtle as not to diminish in any particular the emphasis that has been placed upon the necessity of every citizen's giving protection of himself against infection.

Predicts Small Black List.

In diplomatic terms he differed with estimates that from 40 to 50 per cent of Chicago will be afflicted during the next few months, and that between 10,000 and 15,000 of the cases will be fatal. His opinion is that the disease will be confined to the next five weeks, and that the number of deaths will not run far above normal.

The commissioner did not belittl any of the preparations made in connection with the epidemic, but he arranged for the publication of newspaper advertisements containing a summary of facts concerning "20," just issued by the public health department, and he asked for the aid of the council committee on finance for an appropriation of $100,000. The appropriation, he was told, was impossible at this time, but he was directed to proceed with all necessary funds.

Appeal for Nurses.
Dr. Robertson and Dr. A. Augustus O'Neill, medical director of the Red Cross in Chicago, simultaneously ask the newspapers to request all women with training in nursing to volunteer for duty.

During the period from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. the health department receive reports of 107 new cases of influenza and 104 cases of pneumonia. The deaths during that period were twenty from influenza and thirty from pneumonia.

"No one can or should attempt to predict the number that will be affected in Chicago," Mr. Robertson said.

See Low Flu Season Note.

"I think it will all blow over in far as Chicago is concerned in a few weeks. And I believe that the intelligence of the Chicago people will cause them to follow the directions of the health department as others on how to keep themselves free from infection. And, if they do, there is every likelihood that the number of deaths will not be many more than the normal year."

East Deaths From

"There were 2,019 deaths from pneumonia in 1917, and so far this year there have been 2,029 deaths from the cause. I shall be surprised if the pneumonia death rate for 1918 is any higher than the rate for 1917."

Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, state director of public health, said his report showed epidemic conditions are spreading rapidly through the state. The "flu" has appeared in Kansas Peoria, Pontiac, Elgin, and in the south as Mount Carmel in Weber county. Along the north shore the situation in Highland Park continues the most acute. A total of 2,908 cases were reported from there.

Home Guards Patrol Streets.
"In Lake Forest," Dr. Drake said, "the situation is being handled with unusual efficiency. These people are not even permitted to gather in the streets."

The public schools of Winnetka and Glencoe have been ordered closed and all meetings postponed until the emergency is over.

those towns. The Winnetka, however, guards will enforce the order, patrolling the streets. Proclamations will be distributed by Boy Scouts.

At Fort Sheridan there now are 11 cases, and there were four deaths during the day.

Good news was received from the Camp Grant and Great Lakes Naval Training station, except that there was an official admission at Great Lakes that there have been seven cases of epidemic meningitis there in the last two

At Camp Grant yesterday thirty-five influenza deaths were reported, bringing the total to ninety-six. About

Medical forces at the camp are now calling the epidemic pneumonia instead of influenza, as it is the former di-case that heightens the mortality figures. They said the worst is over in their establishment and that the number of men being returned to duty daily exceeds the number of new
